Rider Name _____ Rider Number _____

1. TPB – Team Paula Behm - The Internet

Points 1,000

As many of you know, former Minnesota 1000 Rallymaster Paula Behm suffered a stroke in the fall of 2018. She was recently moved to an assisted living facility in West St. Paul, MN, and is working hard toward her goal of living independently. In the past the MN1K has donated to various causes, this year we're going to help Paula. There's a PayPal account set up to accept donations so your first bonus of the 2019 MN1K will be to help Paula by making a donation in any amount to this PayPal account. You can do it anytime before you sit down at the scoring table.

To collect this bonus you must; claim it on your score sheet, show the scorer your PayPal receipt for the donation. We will accept an electronic copy of your receipt on your phone or laptop. The possibility exists we may be able to access the PayPal account at the finish and verify your donation, we haven't ironed out all those details.

A receipt for any PayPal payment can be found under “Summary” in the upper left menu, choose “Recent Activity”, click on the payment and it will show a receipt.

The PayPal account is TeamPaulaBehm@gmail.com and don't forget to select “Sending to a Friend” to avoid fees.

2. SAI – Hyderseek – Hyder, Alaska

Points: 20,000

N55° 54.676' W130° 01.249'

For the ride harder not smarter crowd. You may notice that Jack and Marlene Baker aren't here at the MN1K that's because they're in Hyder Alaska having rejuvenated Hyderseek. Hyderseek was/is a celebration of Ron Ayers record run to all 48 states and then to Alaska, the first to do the 48 Plus. This is a one way bonus, meaning you only need to get there not get back before the end of the rally, but you'll miss breakfast. To obtain this bonus you must get a photo of yourself, your rally flag, your motorcycle and Jack Baker in Hyder Alaska in front of the Sealaska Inn before 7:59:59am CDT Sunday and submit that photo via text or email to the rally master 952-836-9437 or coast.rider@gmail.com. If you want to go after this you will be able to leave Moto-Primo at 8:00pm Friday night. You will not be allowed to collect any other bonuses. Except the rest bonus ZZZ and Team Paula Behm bonus TPB. You must let the rally master know your intentions and have us check your mileage and time out here at Moto-Primo before you leave. Remember, it's only a sucker bonus until someone goes and gets it.

3. DIS - Disciascio's – Coon Valley, WIPoints: 1000*N43° 42.142' W91° 01.108'

DiSciascio's was an Italian restaurant in operation for 26 years until 2013, when it was replaced by Legacy Grill. The spirits here were first noticed long ago when the building housed a bar. Witnesses have described a ghost lady, who has been nicknamed Mary by restaurant staff, and objects have been known to fly off shelves on their own. According to the very faded mural on the west side of the Legacy what year was Coon Valley 150 years old?

Answer: _____

Date: _____ Time: _____ Odometer: _____

4. BOS - Hotel Boscobel, Central House – Boscobel, WIPoints: 1000*N43° 08.076' W90° 42.346'

This hotel's claim to fame is that it was the spot where the Gideon's Bible originated. The ghost of Adam Bobel, the hotel's original builder, has been seen here by employees and guests alike. In 1890, a baby was found in a shoebox next to a lamp post in front of the hotel. It was snowing, so the abandoned infant was named Snowflake. She lived to be 12, and at least according to some legends, loved the hotel so much that she has never left. Snowflake showed up periodically at the foot of guests' beds for years. There are neon beer signs in the three windows to the right of the front door. Name one of the beers.

5. SCC - St. Charles Cemetery – Genoa, WIPoints: 1000*N43° 34.224' W91° 13.293'

Balls of light are seen at night in the old section of the cemetery. The old section is separated from the rest of the cemetery by trees and a deep gully. Eagle Street goes through a church parking lot, at the far end you'll see the St Charles Cemetery arch. Just past the arch keep left, follow as straight as possible to a wide paved spot where you'll see some stairs. A few tiers up the stairs on the left is a very distinct headstone for Lockington. What is the transportation vehicle depicted on the headstone?

6. MPV - Mineral Point Vampire – Mineral Point, WIPoints: 1600*N42° 51.431' W90° 11.711'

In 1981 reports began to circulate about a vampire that had taken up residence in Mineral Point's Graceland cemetery. As recently as 2008, police have been contacted regarding a tall, caped figure with a white face harassing and terrorizing residents, as well as trespassing in cemeteries after dark. On each occasion, police arrived on the scene and the figure ran. When the police gave chase, the "vampire" would disappear without a trace, at one point easily scaling a 10' concrete wall. Allen Ludden of Password fame the 60's game show is buried here at Graceland cemetery, coincidence? I don't think so. Waypoint is at the grave site. Go straight in the main entrance and take the third right. About half way down that road you will see a large pine tree on your left. The Ludden grave is just on the other side of the tree. Get a photo of the Ludden grave marker.

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

7. WWF - Whitewater Falls Cemetery - Elba, MNPoints: 1200*N44° 08.245' W92° 00.308'

In the mid 1800's there was a massive flood that wiped out the original location of the cemetery. All of the bodies were re buried in this new spot, except one. They never found the body of George Stoning in the muck and debris. George had been buried next to his wife and is said to have heard and sometime seen searching for his wife's gravesite in the new cemetery. Go north from Elba, MN on Hwy 74 3.7 miles where you'll find a small dirt parking area. To the left in the parking area there's a gate with a yellow State Wildlife Area sign, this is where the waypoint is. Follow the two track about 100 yards and keep right up the hill to the cemetery. As you crest the top of the hill look to your right and you'll see a large headstone for McRay on it it says "Gone but not Forgotten". Get a photo of the McRay headstone.

8. ERC - Eagle Road Cemetery/Tabor Cemetery - Juneau, WIPoints: 1200*N43° 21.414' W88° 41.063'*Daylight only

Eagle Road Cemetery, aka Evangelical Church Cemetery or Tabor Cemetery, is a hot spot for activity. Witnesses have seen apparitions and felt cold spots and gusts here, and some have seen the Virgin Mary or experienced stigmata (bleeding from the hands and arms) after leaving. We looked at the Schumacher headstone and saw a little kid peeking out from behind it. The waypoint is at the entrance. The Schumacher headstone is large and rough cut in the front third of the cemetery. Get a photo of the Schumacher headstone.

9. LBC - LaBelle Cemetery - Oconomowoc, WIPoints: 1100*N43° 06.736' W88° 29.285'*Daylight Only

People have seen the apparition of this girl walking down the steps of this marker and heading toward the lake to drown herself. Legend here surrounds a large statue of a young girl and a cross. It is said that her apparition appears from the statue and drowns itself in Lac La Belle, or that her statue's hands drip blood. This monument was erected in the 1940s. The waypoint is at the bonus. This marker is for a family plot, Nathusius, in front of the marker with the girl are 4 small headstones. What is the name on the headstone farthest to the right?

10. HCR - Heaven City Restaurant – Mukwonago, WIPoints: 1200*N42° 52.654' W88° 18.182'

Heaven City was named after the failed religious commune started by AJ Moore and Madam Talcott in Mukwonago during the 1930s, and since the restaurant's opening, customers and employees have reported strange things happening there. Odd thumping noises would occur, ghostly apparitions would pop up unexpectedly, and even a flowery, lilac perfume scent would fill the entire restaurant at random times. Could it just be a coincidence the founder of the religious commune, Madam Talcott, reportedly wore lilac perfume back when she was still alive? The restaurant is presently closed. Towards the road from the restaurant there is a large carving from a dead tree of a Native American. Get a photo of the sculpture.

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

11. WRB – Weary Road Bridge – Evansville, WIPoints: 1200*N42° 44.696' W89° 14.400'

Stories of teenagers “car surfing”, not slowing down the curve in time and being killed when they were ejected off the vehicle into a steep ditch or the creepy treeline. Another involves more teens playing chicken on one of the longer stretches of road by driving at each other at speed with the lights off, and wrecking head on when they misjudge the length of road. There have been reports of phantom motorcycles, cars and trains (Chicago-Northwestern tracks cross the north portion of road.), dark figures and imps passing in front of or behind vehicles traveling the road late at night, green glowing near the bridge, screams and inhuman sounds, scratches showing up on bodies, sightings of a ghostly girl in the woods, “Mr. Weary” making appearances on the road at night. Right at the corner by the bridge is a dirt parking area to the south west. Above the “Parking Area” sign is a sign the describes the “Allowed Activities”. Name one of those activities.

12. DRB - Dyreson Road Bridge – McFarland, WIPoints: 1100*N42° 59.287' W89° 16.694'

You don't want to walk across this old bridge near McFarland at night. People report hearing cries and screams. If you're driving, an old, black car might suddenly appear behind you and get right up to your bumper, as though it's going to ram you off the road into the water below. As its headlights fill your rearview window, the car suddenly disappears. There are matching signs on each end of the bridge, what do they say?

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

13. BLT - Beloit Trestle – Beloit, WIPoints: 1700*N42° 30.522' W89° 01.986'

Apparitions of a man who hung himself from the trestle swinging from the trestle. They say when they cut him down his body fell into the river and was never recovered. Some people have heard knocking or screams from under the trestle. Some reports claim that a man lost everything in the stock market and killed his family and then killed himself. The waypoint is the parking lot for the Riverside Park. From there follow the paved walking path under the highway bridge and to the walking bridge across the river, maybe 100 yards. About $\frac{3}{4}$ the way across the river you'll see the trestle, on the far side of the trestle is a brass plaque commemorating the replica of the first diesel-electric locomotive made right here in Beloit. Get a photo of the plaque.

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

14. BCC - Billings Creek Cemetery – Ontario, WIPoints: 1000*N43° 42.357' W90° 32.185'

Weirdness at this cemetery includes phantom babies crying in the infant section, apparitions, voices that call the names of cemetery visitors, and a monument that causes mechanical objects to fail. The Billings Creek Cemetery is on Cemetery Road which is gravel, very good gravel and only 0.2 of a mile. Towards the back of the cemetery you'll see a flag pole with a bench with the name Downing on it near by. Waypoint is at the entrance to the cemetery. Get a photo of the Downing bench.

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

15. DCC - Dane County Cemetery – Waunakee, WIPoints: 1100*N43° 13.647' W89° 34.859'

Visitors have reported strong feelings of uneasiness and the feeling they are being watched when walking through the cemetery, and still others have reported seeing weird balls of light, shadowed figures, or glimpses of strange, otherworldly creatures in the area. The entrance is right across from Pertzborn Road between two cement posts, there is no sign. The cemetery is 0.2 of a mile from Brereton Road on a good two track that should be passable on any street bike unless it's very wet. The waypoint is at the entrance to the cemetery. Just a short distance inside the cemetery there's a flag pole with a sign below it. Get a photo of the "Dane Cemetery" sign.

17. RHH - The Reedsburg Hitch Hiker – Reedsburg, WIPoints: 900*N43° 31.998' W89° 55.687'

For years, drivers have reported a man wearing what appears to be a green army jacket from the 1960s and blue jeans walking down Wisconsin Hwy 33 between Lake Virginia and Coon Bluff Road. In most reports, this man is said to have a dark beard, and long, greasy black hair. Drivers will pass him, not paying too much attention to the scraggly man, but then are overwhelmed when after traveling for about a mile down the road, they see the SAME guy, still walking down the side of the highway. How could this man have gotten ahead of them so quickly when no other cars have gone by? Some brave souls have attempted to give the man a ride, but find that he vanishes from sight before he reaches their car. Stop at the Historical Marker for Clare Briggs-Cartoonist along Hwy 33, according to the marker after his death where were his ashes spread?

18. EIL - East Immanuel Labyrinth - Amery, WIPoints: 700*N45° 14.373' W92° 24.485'

This church dates back to 1870 when it was formed by Norwegian settlers. Services were not even held in English until 1941. The church has its own congregation of spirits and ghosts. Hushed voices and whispers are heard in the church when no one is there. The bells has sometimes started ringing on its own. The church has a labyrinth just northwest of the church. Waypoint is at the entrance to the labyrinth. Get a photo of the marker at the center of the labyrinth.

Date:_____ Time:_____ Odometer:_____

19. MLC – Moe Lutheran Cemetery – Clear Lake, WIPoints: 700*N45° 16.479' W92° 13.180'

The church and cemetery are reported to be haunted by angry spirits. Legend has it that in the early 1900s, the church accidentally burned to the ground killing over 30 people, who have haunted the rebuilt church since. Another legend says in the 1950s, a woman hanged herself in the bell tower after losing her child, and her apparition has been seen hanging in the tower or walking through the cemetery holding her baby. One of those killed in the fire, Martha Felland, is buried in the cemetery. Waypoint at the entrance. Her headstone is the third one on the right as you enter to cemetery through the arched gateway, look for the white obelisk. Get a photo Martha's headstone.

The first thing I found out about this church was that it had been used for exorcisms but said it was in Minnesota, both were wrong. It turns out this church was the first Estonian Lutheran church in America, built in 1924 with help from a traveling pastor from Boston, Reverend Hans Rebane, who made annual visits to preach to the Gleason-area Estonians. Bill Rebane, the current owner is the great nephew of Reverend Hans Rebane. Coincidentally, Rebane is the director of the legendary Wisconsin-filmed 1975 classic The Giant Spider Invasion. 43. MCH - Maribel Caves Hotel – Maribel, WIPoints: 1700*N44° 17.028' W87° 46.623'*Daylight Only

This place is known locally as Hotel Hell. The building burned three times, each time on the exact same date. It was rebuilt twice. The first fire was in the 1920s. The last fire was in 1930 and everybody died in their sleep. The spirits of those killed in the hotel have lingered in the building. This spiritual activity attracted a group of local Black Witches who conducted secret rituals to curse the hotel and in the process they opened up a portal to Hell through an old fountain in the front of the hotel. This unleashed a horde of evil spirits that terrorized the town of Maribel. Fortunately, a White Witch came to the rescue, sealing off the portal and confining the demons to the boundaries of the hotel and the surrounding yard. The waypoint is at the entrance to the park, follow the driveway to the parking lot. At the far end of the parking lot follow the trail to the remains of Hotel Hell. The remains are on private property, do not go past the fence. Get a photo of the remains of Hotel Hell.

52. GWC - Greenwood Cemetery – Nekoosa, WIPoints: 900*N44° 14.321' W89° 54.828'

It was 1961, and three joyriding teenagers, Bernard, Glenn and Tom were rodding around the countryside north of Necedah, stopping at beer joints and raising a little hell. They chanced upon a cemetery, and pulled up to the gates to decide what to do with themselves for the remainder of the evening. Soundlessly, unaided, the closed cemetery iron gates swung open. Open-mouthed, they stared. No one was there; the breeze gentle. Yet the gate had swung back, with no visible agent. Again, howling here. Howling there. Howling everywhere, ringing all around them. Bernard sees the apparition first. At least six feet tall, hunched near a crooked leaning headstone, a black human-like shape without noticeable neck. The figure is completely black, a three dimensional shadowy blotch against the fading light. It disappears. Reappears by another headstone, howling all the while. They all see it, now. Riveted by fear, they watch the shape's disappearing trick. Here; there; darting; howling. Waypoint is at the entrance. Go in through the gate with the archway, a little ways in on your right there is a flag pole with a brick monument at the base next to a utility pole. A woman that ran the hardware store in town disappeared. There was blood on the floor of the store. The last receipt written was for antifreeze. Someone recalled that Ed was going to go the the store to get antifreeze. Deputies went to Ed's house and found her decapitated body hanging in a shed eviscerated like a deer. Her heart was in a pot on the stove.

Further investigation revealed the following items in Ed's house:

Whole human bones and fragments

Wastebasket made of human skin

Human skin covering several chair seats

Skulls on his bedposts

Female skulls, some with the tops sawn off

And much, much more.

Waypoint is near the grave site. Enter through the middle of the five entrances, the one with the Rural Fire Address and Cemetery rules. This mass of unmarked graves is said to be a hotbed of restless spirits that can be felt as well as seen. People say they see figures of adults and children slowly walking through the fence here. Back in 1862 Milwaukee County purchased some land here for a poor house. Admission to the Asylum required a judge's order, documented poverty, lack of any sympathetic relatives or friends, and the signatures of two County taxpayers. The sick and disabled came here as well. They worked the farmland as kind of a cottage industry. When they died, the county buried them. Since "lowest bidder" was involved, coffins were pretty basic and about 4' long. Thousands were buried in unmarked graves. North across the field from the gravel parking lot is a small grove of trees. Within those trees are many of those buried here they have been marked with tiny wooden markers. The mine caved in here and drowned 27 miners. People who live nearby report hearing screaming and noises like someone striking a rock with a pick. Apparitions can be seen in and around the water where the river ran into the mine. Lights of mining helmets are seen beneath the surface of the water. One of the side shafts ran under this river. The top level was only 35 feet below the river. On September 28, 1893, the shaft caved in under the river and the river flooded the mine. The miners made a break for it but got caught in a torrent of water pouring into the mine. Five made it out by scrambling up ladders. Twenty seven died. The mine closed in 1913 and logging and farming took over. Gravel Alert; coming in on Old 69 Road you will encounter about 1 mile of gravel. Coming in on Mansfield Cutoff is all paved. Get a photo of the stone memorial listing the 27 miners names.

83. CTC - Calumet Theater, Calumet, MI Points: 2400

N47° 14.855' W88° 27.222'

The Calumet Theater started up around 1900. At the time it was a remarkable theater - even better than what was found downstate in Detroit. The theater is haunted by the ghost of Madame Helena Modjeska who was once a renowned actress in Shakespearean and tragic roles. The ghost first appeared in 1958 when actress Adysse Lane claimed Madame Modjeska appeared to her during a performance when Lane forgot her lines. Since then all kinds of unexplainable happenings have occurred. People feel coldness from nowhere and have heard unexplained music. On the south side of the theater is a green "Welcome to Calumet" sign. What is the twin city of Calumet?

89. PGS - Paulding General Store – Bruce Crossing, MIPoints: 1700*N46° 24.083' W89° 10.722'

The first recorded sighting of the Paulding Light was in 1966 when a group of teenagers reported the light to a local sheriff. Since then, a number of other individuals have reported seeing the mysterious light, which is said to appear nearly every night at the site.

Although stories related to the light vary, the most popular legend involves the death of a railroad brakeman. The legend states that the valley once contained railroad tracks and the light is the lantern of the brakeman who was killed while attempting to stop an oncoming train from colliding with railway cars stopped on the tracks. 90. OTN - Old Town Negaunee – Negaunee, MIPoints: 1800*N46° 29.792' W87° 37.594'

With massive mining operations taking place in “Old Town” from the mid-1800s until the early 1900s, the very ground that the town was built on began to crumble. The mines had begun to cave, eating up sheds and outlying buildings before it was ultimately decided that Negaunee — built quite literally on the iron ore beneath the feet of its residents — would have to relocate. Homes were either demolished or transported by semi to the north and east end of town, and by the late 1950s, nothing remained of Old Town. As you pass through the area be alert for apparitions from the past that still linger in the remains. There are small signs designating where some of the old residences were. Find “92 Michigan St.” according to the sign who were Russ and Lila's daughters?

93. PRO - Powers Road Overlook Combo – Gogebic County, MI Points: 500
Combo PRE and PRW

Native American ghost was sighted at the Powers Road Overlook near Lake Road in the spring of 1998. A ghost was seen approximately 30 yards north of the overlook about 100 feet or so off of the ground. Other strange things also sighted in the area such as figures seen and an eerie glow that was said to emanate from behind the trees to the south of the overlook. As mentioned before Kevin chickened out on this, something about snow, pffft. Get both Powers Road bonuses, PRO-E and PRO-W and score extra points. They're about 7 miles apart, if you take Lake Road between the two it's paved. If you take Powers Road it's an unknown condition gravel road but you'll get to see Powers Overlook, unlike Kevin who missed it. Mileage for the two routes are similar. How Adventuresome are you??? If you do take Powers Road some photos of and from the overlook would be cool!
